Delnet

The primary goals of DELNET are to support resource sharing among Member Libraries by gathering, organizing, and sharing information as well as providing users with networked library services; conducting information science and technology research; providing member libraries with technical assistance; coordinating efforts for the development of appropriate collections; and facilitating and promoting Inter Library Loan and document delivery, among other activities. The Knowledge Gainer Portal, the Discovery Portal, and the Vision Portal (Video Lectures) are all products of DELNET. The portals offer advanced features for finding new information. It is a straightforward, single-window exploration layer that invites users to delve into the feature-rich networked library and information resources provided by DELNET. Faculty, researchers, scholars, students, and other members of Member-Institutions greatly benefit from DELNET.

NDLI

With the goal of bringing digital repositories from India and throughout the world to users of all demographics, the National Digital Library of India is a one window platform that offers educational resources. Schools, colleges, universities, instructors, students, lecturers, students with disabilities, and everyone else who is eager to learn are all intended audiences for the integrated platform. With assistance from the Indian government's Ministry of Human Resource Development (MHRD), the Indian Institute of Technology, Kharagpur, has established the National Mission on Education through Information and Communication Technology (NMEICT) project. NDLI features an open digital library that is accessible 24/7 with a single window search that can be accessed from any location. Modules and educational resources are accessible with the goal of bringing digital repositories from India and throughout the world to users of all demographics. The National Digital Library of India is a one window platform that offers educational resources. Schools, colleges, universities, instructors, students, lecturers, students with disabilities, and everyone else who is eager to learn are all intended audiences for the integrated platform.

Access to learning materials and modules from the top universities in the nation on a variety of subjects that you can filter based on your needs or degree of study is provided by the National Mission on Education through Information and Communication Technology (NMEICT) project, which was developed by the Indian Institute of Technology, Kharagpur, with assistance. International cooperation on digital content and e-learning to give us access to the most latest, pertinent, and cutting-edge global trends in our field of study. Support immersive e-learning settings on several levels; NDLI search results will change based on educational requirements. Cover all academic levels, from elementary school to college, university, and lifelong learning. All fields of study, including engineering, medicine, law, science, and the humanities. Allow the use of regional Indian languages as an instructional medium in all languages. All students (with interfaces designed specifically for those with special needs)
